

Affordable Connectivity Program

Mobius Communications and the Hemingford Cooperative Telephone Company are participating service providers in the Affordable Connectivity Program. This is a government program intended to make broadband services more affordable for low-income households. The program provides a monthly discount of up to $30 on broadband service for eligible households in our company service areas.

In order to qualify for the program through either Mobius Communications or the Hemingford Cooperative Telephone Company, eligible consumers must be enrolled in one of these qualifying programs:

- Participates in certain assistance programs, such as:
  - SNAP
  - Medicaid
  - Federal Public Housing Assistance
  - SSI
  - WIC
  - Lifeline
- Veterans and Survivors Pension Benefit
- Is approved to receive benefits under the free or reduced price school breakfast/lunch program (including through the USDA Community Eligibility Provision)
- Received a Federal Pell Grant during the current award year
- Has an income that is at or below 200% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines.

The Affordable Connectivity Program benefits are non-transferable and are limited to one monthly service discount per household.

The ACP is a Federal Government benefit program operated by the Federal Communications Commission and, if the Program ends, or when a household is no longer eligible, subscribers will be subject to the provider's regular rates, terms, and conditions.

Eligible households can enroll through a participating service provider such as Mobius Communications or the Hemingford Cooperative Telephone Company or directly with the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) using an online or mail in application. You can learn more about the benefit, including eligibility and enrollment information, by visiting <https://acpbenefit.org/do-i-qualify/>.
